

Develop Your Skills & Learn About the Labor Movement at The Labor School

The Labor School brings together workers who share a common concern for the future of their workplace, union and community.

Over the two-year program students explore such diverse topics as labor history, economics for workers, communication skills, diversity, running effective meetings, and managing volunteers. There are no entrance requirements, grades or exams.

Graduates wishing to further their education are automatically admitted to Wayne State and receive 10 credits towards their undergraduate degree.

Tuition is $150 per semester ($600 total). The Labor School is approved for many tuition reimbursement programs. Scholarships are available. No one has ever been turned away due to an inability to pay.

Classes meet mornings, evenings or Saturdays at the Wayne State campus. The fall semester begins September 25. For a Labor School brochure send your name and contact information to laborschool@wayne.edu or call 313-577-2191. Also visit www.laborstudies.wayne.edu for more information and to register.
